

CANDIDATE TESTIMONIALS

It is a privilege to provide this testimonial for COORS Leadership Capital.

My first introduction to Cheryl Coors and her company was in 2005 when I was seeking a new leadership opportunity. I was immediately impressed with her interest in my career and potential fit with opportunities from a professional perspective, as well as my personal interests and family needs.

Cheryl is someone who wants to make sure it is the right fit for the organization and for me, the candidate. She has actually discouraged me from pursuing opportunities if she feels it is not in my best interest long term from a “chemistry” standpoint based on her assessment of the organization and her knowledge of me.

Cheryl is innovative, thorough, and focused on excellence. She provides professional coaching along with a genuine personal interest in her candidates. She also stays abreast of changes in the industry and continues to add value to her company by adding services including the Personal Insights Profile, DISC Assessment. I appreciate the time she took recently to review mine, with me, in depth. She is so invested in the success of the client organization and the candidate that she also conducts the DISC Assessment for the individual who will be the candidate’s immediate supervisor.

These attributes along with her compassion and commitment to excellence differentiate CER from other search firms. Thank you, Cheryl, for your professionalism, integrity, honesty, and sincere interest in my career!

Ms. Coors and COORS Leadership Capital are dedicated professionals. When I was ready for a change in my career, while I was open to new opportunities, I did not have a specific recruiter. I contacted several. I worked with five different recruiters during an eight-week period. I am pleased to say that Ms. Coors was the most personable, encouraging and saw potential in me that even I did not see.

Ms. Coors has contacts in numerous health care settings, at various levels of senior leadership. Ms. Coors recognized in me qualities that complimented an opportunity that I would not have selected on my own. The value for me, in developing a relationship with Ms. Coors and the COORS Leadership Capital team is that I have started a completely new chapter in my career as a professional nurse, professional nurse leader and leader within a hospital system team.

I appreciated Ms. Coors' interview process. A day was set aside just for me. Ms. Coors invited me to Cincinnati where the two of us could discuss 'who I am,' what I have to offer a hospital leadership team and where my opportunities for growth lie. Through this process, Ms. Coors created a profile and presented it to a potential employer.

During the interview process with the potential employer, by phone and then travel to the potential job, Ms. Coors kept me well informed and well prepared. She made sure I had the opportunity to see the community as well as meet many potential co-workers. She gave me all the information, positive and negative of which she was aware. As a post-note, thus far in my new position, I have had no major surprises, the position and responsibilities and hospital system are as they were presented.

I cannot say enough about the personal touch Ms. Coors provided. Her genuine interest in my career is overwhelming. I know that I will never find the words to express my appreciation. However, as I grow and learn in this whole new role in senior leadership in healthcare, Ms. Coors will always be an integral part of this new chapter in my life.

From the perspective of a candidate Cheryl made me feel very comfortable in the process. It was evident she was looking for the right fit for both her client and me.
